WARRENITE

Jenny,
I'm glad
I got to know
you this year you made things fun. We'll have a riot in basketball next year, keep in touch.
Love
Anne

Jenny,
You really
are a nice person—
crazy, but nice.
Stay the same, & hope
to see you next year.
Love,
Judy

Jenny,
We really had a lot of good times
in basketball & softball.
I don't ever forget
in the lockeroom after our game against Mt.
Clemens. Good luck next year. (You're gonna need it, you're still assigned to my best friend Mr. Jaycke!)

Jenny,
I'm really glad
I got to know you this year. Good luck in everything you do in the future. See ya
this summer.
Love
Sharon

Jenny,
Seems like I haven't seen as much of you
as I used to. Dead!
We'll have to get together
sometime and eat another watermelon or go swimming!
(HA, HA!) or something crazy.
Well see you next year (but won't be in French though)

Jenny,
I'm glad to meet you this year. You're a fine
person, a nice friend, and a good athlete. Have fun during basketball and softball. Good luck in your next two years of high school. I hope you do time. Good Luck in the years to come and have fun.

Jenny,
I'm glad that we got to be good friends & have a funny world & are also having a good time. Good luck in your next 5 or more. Stay way you are. I'll one over this punishment.

Really glad that I got to know you this year. You're as they say. Remember the

Jenny,
I really am glad I got to know you this year, and that we have become friends.
We've had a lot of great times during softball. Jenny the next two years are all yours, make the most of them.
Oh yea; I've enjoyed all your jokes,
always keep that great sense of humor.

Take care

Board Adopts New Attendance Policy

Mr. Thomas Jeszke, from Sterling Hts. High School, joined the faculty for the 1974-1975 school year as assistant principal. He is in charge of discipline of students, organization of the school calendar, and works along with Assistant Principal, Mr. Peterman and Principal, Mr. Eschenburg.

A new attendance policy was adopted by the Board of Education to cut down on truancy. The policy is geared so students will not have excessive tardiness and absences, to aid students in receiving better grades.

Counselors Meet All Challenges Head On

At the beginning of the year, the entire school was in a frenzy, especially the counseling department. Whether adjusting a student's schedule to one study hall instead of five, calming nervous sophomore jitters, or preparing worried seniors for SAT tests, the counseling department met all challenges head on.

With a government grant, Mr. Decker and Mr. Morrison organized a tutoring program using mainly National Honor Society members as tutors. A reading program was also formed with Mrs. Rademacher coordinating it. Both projects showed good results throughout the year.

HISTORY: A Forward Glance Into the Past

Do you want to learn more about the past, present, and future world? Social studies will help you do just that.

American History is required for all Sophomore students. Juniors choose from Contemporary Problems. Race and Ethnic Relations, and Sociology.

A new Anthropology class has been added to help Seniors understand the life of man from the earliest civilization to present society. For a semester they research tribes, government systems of man, and physical and social changes over the ages. Students expressed hopes of Anthropology eventually becoming a yearly course instead of a semester course.

Past, present, and future are the pieces of the social studies program.

Setting Out to Better the World

Students have become a little more interested in their government today because of the eighteen year old voting age. It seems more relevant to learn about the new and old laws just a little bit earlier than before. It becomes even more important because soon the Seniors that take this class, will be out on their own. Government class gives good insight into the world's problems, law, opportunities and those things that they will be facing in the near future.

French: It's All Greek to Me

If you find that English is all mixed up and fuddles your mind you should take a foreign language and discover where the problems originated. By the time you understand a foreign language, English is a breeze.

Nothing seems more ridiculous than deciding whether "book" has a masculine or feminine gender unless you're considering a dozen spellings of a verb in Latin.

Miss Schulin is new to the department, teaching Spanish and German.

Top: Miss Schulin. Left: Ms. Buccellato. Above: Mr. Finn.

It's Not Just Readin' and Writin' Anymore

Unfortunately, proficiency in the English language is uncommon. We find that hearing isn't necessarily listening; recognizing groups of letters isn't reading; making noises isn't speaking; and using a pen to make words isn't writing. Not many people are William Shakespeares, so for the rest of us it means hard work to compose words to say exactly what we mean. We're guided by English teachers who try to develop our communication skills while they relate such things as the effects of both American and English literature on our history.

Who's to Blame for This Mess?

Jour alism for first-year staffers always brings many problems. There's the dam typewriter that frequently skips the "n", deadlines that seem to creep up too fast, and editors driven to the brink of nervous breakdowns.

Because of small staff sizes, both the ewspaper and yearbook staffs were combined into one classroom which resulted in one giant hour of mass hysteria instead of two smaller ones.

As if the staffs didn't have enough problems, Warre lost a very good teacher half-way through the year when Mrs. Berkfield left on maternity leave.

Warren to Lose Special Friend

"And in the end, the love you take is equal to the love you make."

These words taken from a Beatles' tune, describe the philosophy of a member of Warren's faculty who is retiring at the conclusion of the year.

Mrs. Klepac, who coordinates the special education course with Mr. Devereaux, is leaving after 13 years of teaching.

"I'll miss my classes very much. Everyone has been so good to me."

Mrs. Klepac views her retirement as a chance to do things she never had time to do before.

Clay, Crayolas, and Conglomerations

Artists make pictures of things they Know, or Love, or Remember, or Wish For, or Dream About, or Imagine.
Somewhere along the line, these people were gifted with the ability to interpret with their hands, what their eyes see and hearts feel.
Clay, ink, lead, paper, and paint become the modes of communication in each unique composition.

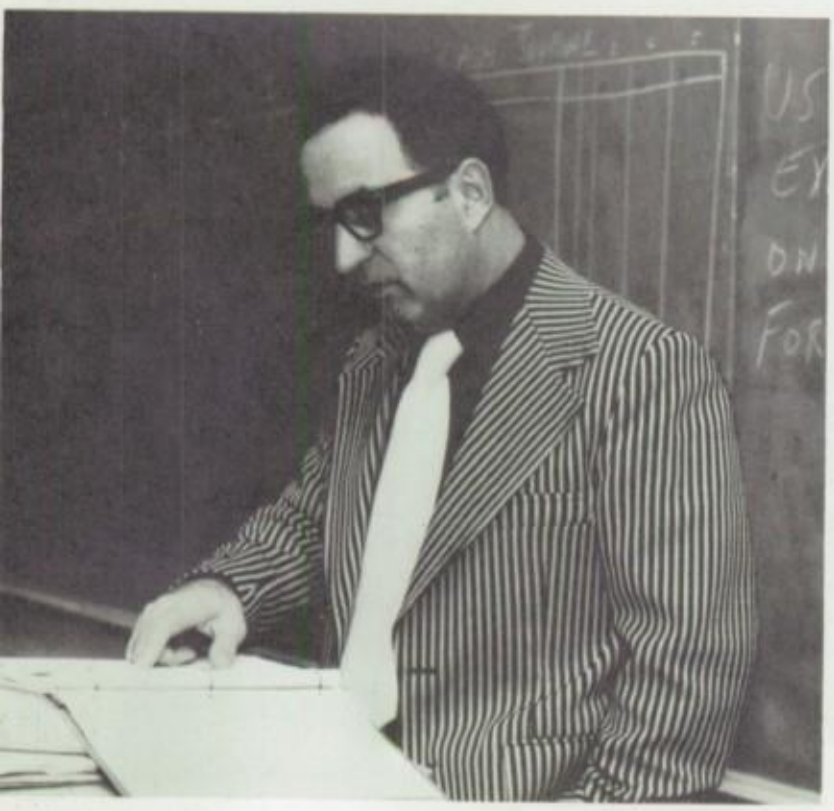
Typing students laugh at the thought of seventy-five words per minute and young stenographers wonder how anyone could talk so fast. In these classes of nimble and quick minds, skills are learned that will be used for a lifetime. The classes in the business department not only prepare the job minded student with the ability to land a high paying job in the business world, but also provide the college-bound student with the skill needed to type a perfect research paper.



Recognizing Math in Action

Although you may not feel you need mathematics, we are constantly being exposed to it and influenced by it.
Simple addition and subtraction are used to balance a checkbook, but someday that will all be done by computer.
By calculus, insurance companies determine how much we'll pay for insurance when we're 50 years old. Gamblers use probability and chance to decide whether their hand is best or if someone is bluffing. We accurately predict election winners by collecting a handful of opinions.
Here at Warren, math teachers try to make us understand math so we can use it to our best advantage now and later on through life.

Interest Growing in Science Classes

Some new faces came to the Science department in the people of biology teachers, Ms. Louise Hartung and Mr. Gary Wilkie. Ms. Hartung created a lively curriculum for her students in her first year at Warren by emphasizing the importance of ecology and personal health. Because of the increased interest in the subject, Mr. Wilkie changed from a full-time physical education instructor to a part-time biology/gym teacher.

The physics classes switched to a new book called, The Project Physics Course. It explains much of the background of physics along with having many experiments.

Equal Rights Hit Gym Class

Equal rights have hit Warren's gym classes. No, don't panic! Guys and girls aren't sharing the same locker room yet. And physical contact sports between the two sexes are almost unheard of.

But it does seem like both are doing the same things in their separate classes. Swimming, basketball, and softball are prime examples of sports played by both.

More and more interest is being taken by girls to have their own teams and that interest can be traced back to gym classes. Sportspersonship and team effort are emphasized to both girls and guys.

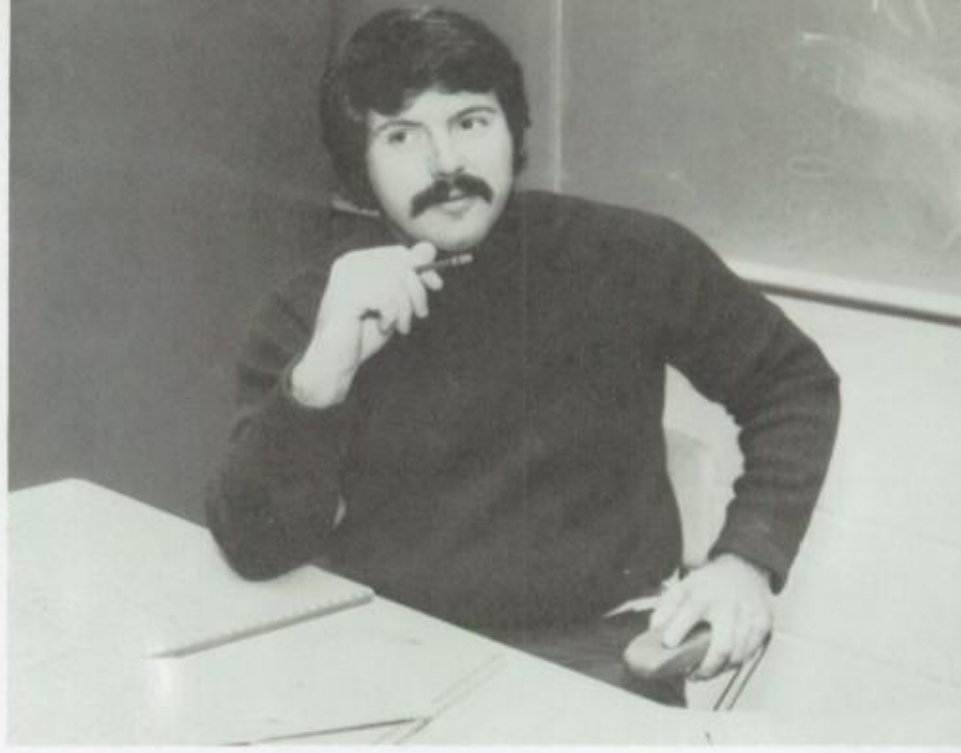
Trade Skills Aim at Shapes, Curves



Even though industrial lay-offs are prevalent and car production is low, a strong feeling of optimism remains in Warren's trade classes. The skills they learn will always be in demand. Wood and steel are formed into smooth projects in shop while future mechanics try to figure out the latest car styles in auto tech. With girls invading the drafting room once again guys learn more than ever about shapes and curves. And who could forget all those zig zagging lines that somehow mean something to would-be electricians.

It's Batter to Blunder in Home-Ec Now

By overcoming mistakes made in Home-Ec, girls become the civil engineers of tomorrow. Left-handed seamstresses try to remember not to sew zippers on backwards while others master sweeping up salads tossed to the ground.
Some of the other well-liked aspects of home-life are — interior designing, child care and development, and nutrition.

Feeding 1400 Famished Faces

It's recently been discovered that there are people at Warren who like to eat. For those people who don't brown-bag every lunch period, there is a very capable staff of cooks and kitchen helpers.

The faculty gets a special red-carpet treatment from the Commercial Foods class.

The Country Kitchen simulates a 'real' outside world restaurant where the students act as 'real' waiters and waitresses — without tipping!

Living in the Material World

Enterprising students are lured to co-op classes by the chance to earn three credits while getting paid. Valuable on-the-job experience is gained while academic prowess is achieved in the classroom. Co-op students are allowed to miss the minimum state credit hour requirements but suffer severe consequences if they don't meet their working requirements. Students spread their work out among hospitals, offices, and on the retail level.

Duo Makes Presence Felt in First Year

For the music department, good times got better. A wholesale staff switch occurred for the second year in a row with new arrivals, Mr. Donald Platter and Mr. Dan Olson.

Both men showed enthusiasm in their programs and a hunger to improve them.

Mr. Platter started a sophomore band and high-stepped his troops during precision drills and provided excellent entertainment at football games.

Mr. Olson came to Warren with a decade of college teaching experience. The choruses did fine jobs in their fall, winter, and spring concerts whether they were singing something old or something new.

All Quiet on the Western Front

Shhh! You're in the library now.

Here in the western end of the building we find a storehouse of knowledge and ideas. It's here that we can find out about great men and the small and by understanding them we start to understand ourselves.

If you want statistics or just a good book, the library has it all and the librarians are your guides through these chronicles of time.

Student Council Strives for Changes

The Student Council started out having problems with the sophomores in trying to get them to run as Student Council Representatives. No sophomores got petitions and because of their lack of enthusiasm the election had to be postponed to a later date.

Student Council took care of the Homecoming activities and also started Homecoming Week which was new for WHS. The activities planned for the week went over well as did their occasional selling of bagels throughout the year.

Last year's accomplishment, a juke box, kept hopes up high for the smoking area which has been discussed over the past years. Council worked with and helped Quad Council with a survey on the issue.

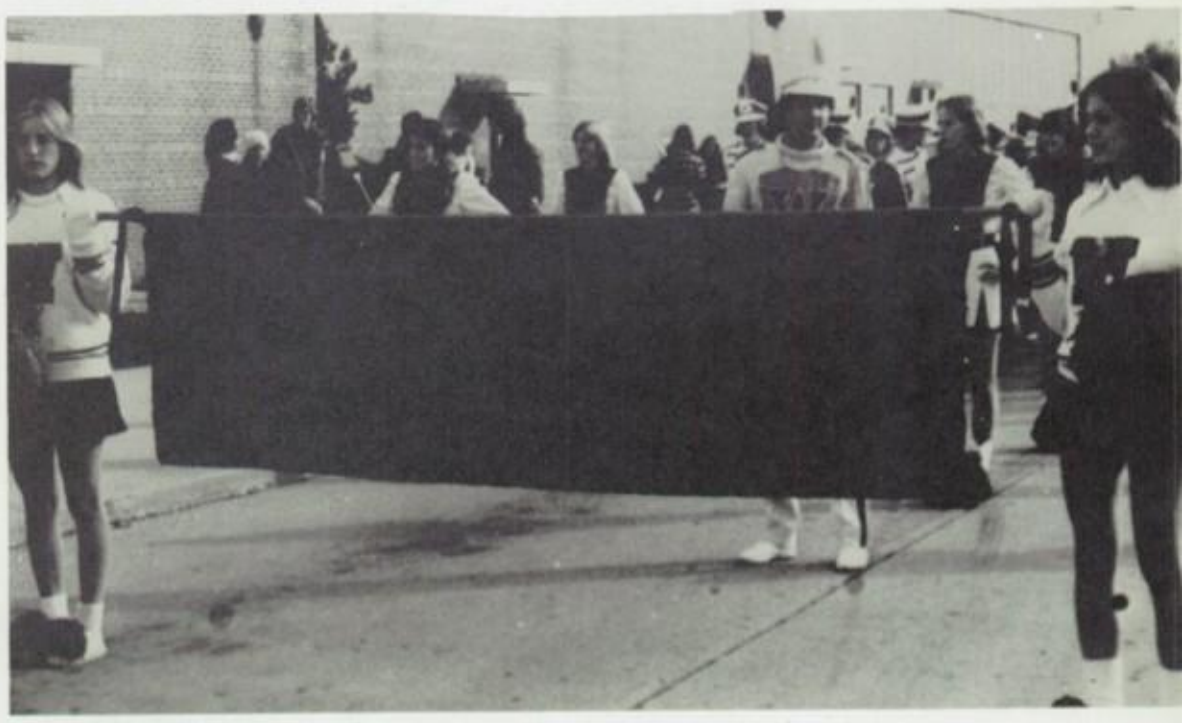
During Homecoming Week

Excitement and tension started out early as a new event took place at WHS.

Homecoming Week started out with competition between each class to decorate a designated hall. Seniors took first place displaying their originality in main hall.

During the Powder Puff football game, Senior ladies showed the Underclassman girls who was boss by defeating them with the outcome of 14-6.

The Seniors' enthusiasm swept the gymnasium at the homecoming assembly as they took the 1975 spirit jug.



Lynn Crowned As Puff Pulls Through

Homecoming night helped to carry on the excitement that was brought on by homecoming week. During half time the Senior float, "Puff the Magic Dragon," was awarded first place. Juniors contributed their float which represented "Up Up and Away" along with the Sophomores who had "Bridge Over Troubled Waters." Moments after the floats were taken around, the Senior float was set on fire as were the other floats later on that night. Soon after, Lynn Spanski was crowned as the Homecoming Queen of "74."

Homecoming Week ended the following night with the traditional Homecoming Dance. Here Lynn and her court were honored with a special dance.

Band and Music March Together

There have been some changes made in band with the coming of the new director Mr. Platter. Instead of having just one band there were two. One was the Symphonic Band which performed in a Symphonic Festival and the other was the concert band. Both bands were involved in a parade and Concert at Greenfield Village during the spring.
They were in the Christmas Concert along with Chorus and in March they performed alone in a Winter concert. They were also involved in the Spring Concert, along with pep assemblies, halftime, basketball games and the NHS inductions.
One other accomplishment made by Mr. Platter and the students was a new marching style which proved successful.
With all their time and practice band has again shown their spirit and enthusiasm for WHS.

Majorettes Lead Spirit

The majorettes showed their originality and ability through the routines which they performed during halftime and pep assemblies. Co-Captains Debbie Pittman and Nancy Sarrach worked hard with Bonnie Brooks, Eva Perrera, Cheryl Rennie and alternate Karen Ekola to put together the routines which displayed talent. They proved to capture and enliven the spirit of the student body.

'W' Club Gets Back on Their Feet

The once inactive 'W' Club is back on its feet again. Doug Fougnies, who is the President, called frequent meetings at which the members discussed and voted on ideas to help the different clubs and organizations in the school.

One of their accomplishments was the purchase of a 16mm camera which will be used by all the sport clubs. They also planned outside activities.

High Achievement Proved by NHS

The Henry L. Claeys' Chapter of the National Honor Society is a high honor for the students who are involved in it. All students who are in it must have a grade point average of 'B' or better. Scholarship, leadership, service and character are all considered along with how active the students are in school and in the community. A recommendation of three teachers is also requested when applying.

NHS sold doughnuts and cider and the money they made was used for a canoe trip at the end of the year.

NHS decided to change their tradition of building a Homecoming Float, instead, convertibles took the girls around the field.

Sadie Gives Girls Their Chance

This was the chance for the girls to ask out who they wanted for a change. They then made a corsage out of vegetables and had to decide where to eat afterwards. The music of 'Good Humore' carried on through the night as the couples waited in line to be married by Mr. Kinel, if they wanted.

Some outfits were more original than others but jeans and flannel shirts were the attire for the night.

The best corsage went to Larrie Webb, and Joe Lawless was picked King Korn Kob.

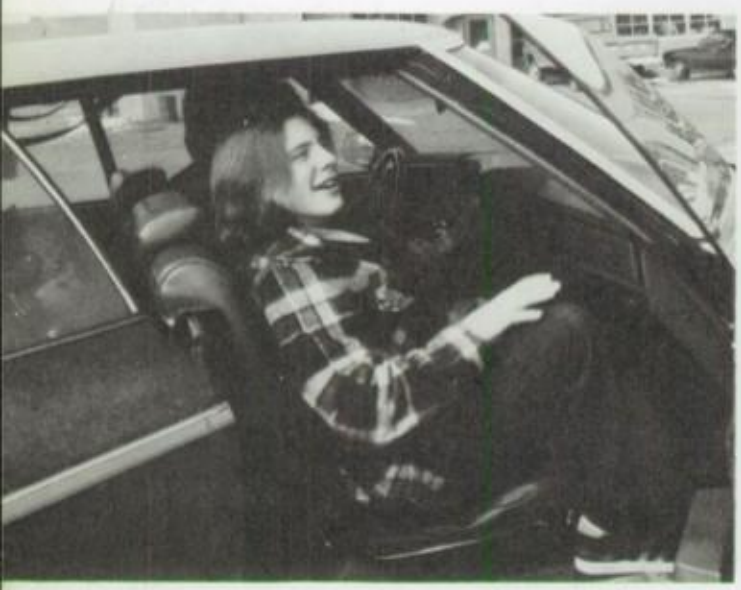
WHS Hits the Slopes

With weather permitting the ski club sponsor, Miss Davison, would join in the fun of skiing along with members of the ski club on Wednesdays.
Of the 50 members, 25 would usually ski at either Alpine or Pine Knob, receiving student rates. One of their activities included the ski show at Cobo Hall in November. They also sold candy to raise money for a weekend trip they took during the winter break in February.



Across: Kathy Kniga, Joanne Jenuwine, Jerry Kaminski, Barb Schaub.

'Twas the Season

The Christmas Fair, held during the lunch hours, added the final touch of Christmas Spirit to WHS before vacation.

The Classes and several of the school organizations sponsored games and sold food. Some of the pixies from the Oakland Mall were also there to help Santa.

Mr. LaRosa shared in the fun by playing his accordian while students gathered around and sang Christmas Carols.

Future Actors Climb Their Way to Top

Thespians produced the play "Frosty the Snowman" for area children. It was a financial success as well as very entertaining. Thespians started their own social program which began with a hayride. In May they performed a play for the One Act Play Festival.

Stage Crew Works Behind the Scenes

Stage crew members were responsible for the sets of all the school plays and they, as the Thespians, had their own special program.

Some of their activities included going on a field trip to theatres and playing basketball against the Debate Team.

During the spring Mr. Wirth picked two boys to go to England during the summer. There they will have the chance to tour and learn more about theaters and stages.

There was also a trip made available to go to Canada to any Stage crew member who was interested.

Did You Miss the Bus Stop?

The sophomore play "Bus Stop" was a serious drama but did have some comical lines in spots. It was a modern theatrical show written by William Inge.

The play centered around a man named Bo Decker, who had lived on a ranch all his life and knew very little about women.

While traveling on a bus Bo, played by John Brock, kidnapped Cherie, played by Kathy Manseni, because he thought she was the right girl for him.

Many conflicts took place in the cafe but the most important was that Cherie taught Bo he must show love and kindness if he ever wanted anyone to love him.

Through the efforts of both the cast and the student director, Jim Oliver, the play turned out to be a success.

Junior Class Play: The Matchmaker

Written by Neal Simon "The Matchmaker" was sponsored by the Junior class. The play was a farce based on the movie "Hello Dolly."
Although it was a difficult play to put on it was a success both artistically and financially, bring in a profit of about $200.
In the play Dolly Levi, played by Julie Yelick, is the matchmaker who tries to get Horace Vandergelder, played by Jim Oliver, married. She makes it look like she's matching Mrs. Malloy, who is Karen Lemke, with him but in reality it's really herself.
There are several other conflicts throughout the play which involve most of the secondary characters.
Student director Karen Williams along with the stagecrew and the cast are to be credited for the success of the play.

We've Run Out:
No Headline for This Page

The newspaper and yearbook staffs were involved in something different this year. Both classes were combined into one, which at times, resulted in mass confusion. Some students on both staffs were working double time as they rushed to meet deadlines.

There was also a change in advisors during the middle of the year which caused a few adjustments.

Bowling Club Strikes Again

The bowling club met every Wednesday at Gold Crown to strike their chance for a perfect game. Each week the members paid 25¢ which went toward the individual trophies most of them received at the end of the season.
Most of the eleven teams consisted of four members. The students themselves had the opportunity to pick their own teams. The team with the highest number of points at the end were considered the champions.
A Roll off tournament was also held at the end of the season in which the bowlers were involved in individual competition.

No, I'm Right O!!X#

The debate squad had a successful year despite the fact that the team was inexperienced.

Even though they placed second in the Warren Conference Novice League they did not enter into the district tournaments.

In the Warren Conference, Carl Meserve won first in the Top Honors Novice Division. Chris Baker was the top WHS Varsity winner while Charles Bono and David Franks were the winners for top WHS Novice.

Steve Rice was the top WHS Varsity debater and Chuck Busse was the top WHS JV debater in the Middle Macomb Debate League.

In the Northern Division of the Metropolitan Conference top WHS Varsity members were Dan Sajkowski and Steve Rice, while Charles Busse won the top WHS Reserve.

Chorus in Tune With the Times

Chorus and Mr. Olson have been busy with festivals and Concerts. They put on a Fall concert, shared the Christmas Concert with the band, and had a Spring Concert.

A special group from Varsity Chorus was chosen by Mr. Olson for an Honors Concert during March. Held at WHS it consisted of chorus members from other schools in the district.

Also in March, they had a Pop Concert with the theme of Nostalgia. It featured songs from the Roaring 20's up to the present.

In Spring, Chorus competed with other schools in a Solo and Ensemble Festival.

Mr. Olson also had a new program, held after school which involved both a male and female ensemble.

Man Must Have Athletic Supporters

Just a bunch of JOCKS? Hardly!

You couldn't earn a varsity letter for it and there was no special recognition, but they were important.

At every game there were people who came out to urge the Orioles on. Armed with programs, confetti, drums, and horns, these people sacrificed their time and homework on any given night for the sake of the team.

To these people we proudly give the name — ATHLETIC SUPPORTERS.

Sophomores Face Traditional First Year Fiascos

A couple hundred kids who look like they'd still rather be out enjoying the summer sun, mill nervously into the auditorium. An authoritative figure stands in front of them trying to be pleasant while explaining homeroom procedures. "Welcome to Warren High Sophomores, you are now officially the class of 1977." Before they had even figured out where the hidden hall was, the Sophomores were bombarded with instructions and deadlines for Homecoming. The ever helpful Juniors and Seniors explained homecoming, posters, parades, procedures, and of course, the spirit jug and float competition. The Sophomores, nothing less than confused, proceeded to build their float "A Bridge Over Troubled Water," and gave the other classes a run for their money in the spirit jug contest.
The next event the sophomores had to take care of was their play "Bus Stop," a drama written by William Inge.

Juniors Have Balloon Burst

Being a junior means being halfway into the high school grind. It means liberation from the lowly sophomore status into a more experienced junior.

A junior means white gold and a little colored stones as excited chatter announced the arrival of class rings.

Homecoming meant "Up, Up and Away" and a valiant try for the spirit jug by the juniors. An unsuccessful attempt at absconding with the little brown jug was also tried by the desperate juniors.

The responsibility of the prom and its many plans falls into the juniors' hands. A different program for the prom was innovated by the class, featuring a dance now, dine later plan.

Cross Country Has Successful Year

An exceptionally good year was experienced by the Harriers as they opened the season with a dual win over Warren Woods and Mott.

As the season progressed, times were dropped considerably and new uniforms added to the team's high spirits. In most meets all members of the team showed tremendous abilities, especially in the crucial meet against Sterling Heights, where the win was needed to insure their place in the conference.

Though no records were broken senior Brad Gallup had the fastest time of the season, 16:01. With Gallup and outstanding runners Bob Stockton and Chris Kozumplik the team went on to finish 3rd in the conference meet, only a few points behind 2nd place Fitzgerald.

Mini-Gridders Enjoy Best Season Ever

The junior squad began its season with a 38-0 romp over Madison Heights. They went on to a 7 and 2 season record. It was the best record of any junior varsity team in the history of Warren High.

Led by quarterback Dan Sajowski, Warren outscored opponents 118 to 76.

Fullback Mark Meyerand scored six touchdowns on the year. However the key to the offense was Dan Sajowski who scored 10 touchdowns and threw for two more.

Warren's only two losses came at the hands of Sterling Heights, who shut the Orioles out 27-0, and to Mott who squeezed by with an 8 to 6 win.

Varsity Ends With Dismal 1-8 Record

Warren High Football, after being Conference Champions the year before, have suffered through one of their worst seasons in recent years, finishing with a dismal 1-8 record.

Warren's problem seemed to be lack of size and lack of experienced players, as Warren had only two returning starters from the year before.

Even though Warren as a team finished badly, Juniors Mark Kaput and John Szymanski managed to break two school records. Quarterback Mark Kaput broke Jim Leshan's year old completion record by completing 66 passes. Kaput completed passes to his ace receiver John Szymanski as John caught 29 passes bettering All-Stater Dave Garrick's record of 28 pass receptions.

Warren's only highlight featured an exciting victory over Center Line in overtime, as the passing duo of Kaput to Szymanski clicked for the touchdown and two point conversion nipping Center Line 28-27.

Warren's team next year looks to be nothing but a promising one as Coach Nowak expects 19 returning lettermen.

Enthusiasm Prevails

Throughout the year cheerleaders incited spirit through freezing football games and stuffy gymnasiums.

With their arousing enthusiasm they were able to bring about the spirit that the students of Warren are so well noted for.

To better their style and to gain new ideas they attended camp for a week during the summer. The girls competed against various other high schools and came away with various awards. They won a trophy for 'Team Improvement,' which is judged by originality of cheers. Ribbons were received for the following; a pompom routine, and their performance and costumes in the skit they performed.

Pom Pom Girls Do Their Thing

Warren High's halftime shows have been something to look forward to during recent years with the Oriolettes displaying modern dancing routines to current songs.

The Co-sponsors, Mr. Cencich and Ms. Zlotohoski have worked hard with the girls this year preparing the dynamic halftime shows you see.

Despite the loss of a few members, the girls with the aid of captain Debbie Lemke have succeeded to entertain the masses at home sports events.

Matmen Experience Continuous Defeat

The wrestling team didn't experience the thrill of victory many times this year. Yet, Coach Robert Kinel states that with the amount of members on the team they really didn't do all that bad.
Though the overall team didn't place high in the conference a few of its members showed tremendous techniques. Captains Ron Voss and Bob Freiwald were the only two members who entered the regionals. After succeeding in the regionals, Voss qualified to compete in the Class A state finals, where he placed 4th.
As well as these two seniors, sophomores John Bryan, Russ Paschen, and Chuck Kase showed great abilities by wrestling on the varsity squad when needed.

Defeats Plague Girls Swim Season

Enthusiasm and determination were present as the girls entered their 74 season. However they soon experienced defeat as their opposing teams showed stupendous swimming skills.

With 2 returning lettermen and a majority of first year swimmers they were not expected to do overly well. Yet, with each meet considerable improvements were made by all team members, with sophomores Carol Degrandchamp, Jean Gordi and Linda White showing exceptional ability.

Records broken were the 200 and 500-yard freestyle by Kathy Pennanen, the 200-yard IM and 100-yard backstroke by Ellen Blazo and the 400-yard freestyle relay by Ellen Blazo, Kathy Pennanen, Heidi Costie and Darlene Watkins.

Though the girls were victorious only once Coach Kappheim felt they did quite well, considering most of the girls were first year swimmers.

Tankers Are Victorious

The swimmers experienced one of their most victorious seasons in recent years. After going 5-10-1 last year they did a complete reverse as they finished their season with a 10-6 record, and placed 2nd in the conference alongside of Warren Woods.

Tremendous improvements led to 5 varsity records being broken. The Medley Relay of Cowley, Herppich, Bartos and Ashton broke both varsity and conference records. Frank Scalici, Dave Ashton, and Greg Cowley also broke varsity records in the 200 I.M. 500 Free, and 100 Back. Greg Bartos, who holds the varsity, pool, and conference records with his time of 54.4 in the 100 Fly, qualified for state. Alongside of the swimmers were divers Debbie Pittman and Kim D'Addario. Though the diving record was not broken, Pittman was only 5 points away from it.

Warren Varsity Girls Post 8-3 Record

The girls varsity basketball team under the coaching of Mr. Salminen ended their second full season of varsity sports by posting a more than respectable 8-3 overall record, third in the conference. With fine play from starters Sue December, Gail Connor, and Sue Pavloff, the girls earned themselves a chance to compete in both the district and state playoffs, easily defeating both Cousino and Mott. Warren next lost to Mt. Clemens 50-39 in the regionals.

Warren's varsity next year will feature an experienced squad as Mr. Salminen returns with seven letterwomen, three of whom have started the last two years.

Mini-Machine Finishes 10-10

The junior varsity basketball team, under the coaching of Gary Boehmer, finished a season that was not too spectacular, but it did have its promising moments.

With a 10-10 overall record it was obvious the J.V. squad was plagued by the problem of inexperience. Inconsistency proved to be another problem as Coach Boehmer couldn't seem to find a winning formula other than the two starters Lenny Szweijk and Dave Kaput.

Lenny Szweijk, who could be a starter on next year's powerhouse team, managed to average 21 points a game. Dave Kaput led the team in assists.

Along with Szweijk and Kaput, Coach Steele sights Don O'Hara as a promising varsity prospect in next year's 75-76 basketball season.

Big Orange Captures District Crown

The Varsity Basketball team, according to Coach Steele, is the greatest bunch of guys he's ever coached. That's not hard to say when your team finishes 20-4 for the season, 15-1 in the conference.

The 15-1 record was good enough for a share of the conference crown. Warren captured the District playoffs by rolling over Lincoln, Detroit Northern, and Hazel Park. In the end, Warren had amassed the most victories in the school's history.

The team was helped throughout the year by the fine play of Senior co-captains, Rick Eschenburg and Brian Hulyk, whose leadership qualities were hard to beat.

But without the juniors on the squad, the year would have been impossible. With Bob Booth, Jim Murray, Mike Longaker, and Mike Pollock all returning next year, Mr. Steele has said he doesn't think they'll lose a game.

Bull-Shooters Win 8 Team Race

In its second full season Warren High's Intramural basketball has continued to be a smash interest.

Intramural basketball was organized by Mr. Steele to create more interest in the J.V. and varsity basketball programs.

The Bullshooters was the team to beat, with the other 8 teams being the C.C. Friers, Flash Gordons, B.M.F.'s, Psycho's, Waldo's Wieners, California Roach Chokers, and the Pop-Roullette.

Though the competition was tough the Bullshooters, an all senior team, captured the Intramural crown with an undefeated season.

Netters Are A Success

As the girls entered their 2nd year in a varsity sport they expected a victorious season.

With the help of most valuable player Elaine Bellis and returning lettermen Brenda Marshall, Laura Wojceichowski, and Valeta Anderson, They were able to do exactly that.

With the absence of one of their star players, Sharon Czulinski, the team felt an unbelievable amount of pressure. Yet, with the influence of Brenda Marshall they were kept alive and were able to experience one ecstatic victory after another.

Following in the varsity's footsteps, the J.V. was not far behind. With most valuable player Darlene Brackney and most improved player, Renee Enjaian, they experienced a very successful season.

Class of '75; Our Time Was Never Better

Ahead of every senior lies the uncertain world — but behind him he leaves a year full of memories.

The class of 75 began their year by sweeping all the events in the Homecoming compeition. The excitement of winning with "Puff the Magic Dragon" carried through to the spirit assembly, where the Seniors were awarded the jug.

The class sponsored the play "Where's Charley" by George Abbott. The money from the production was used to help finance the All Night Party.

Rose and cranberry were chosen as the class colors and the white rose accented the selection.

The annual post-graduate trip was re-vamped to accomodate more people's wishes. A week's stay in either Toronto or the Bahamas was offered.

In Memory of Joe Richard

Talking about Joe is kinda hard to do
In terms of what he meant to me and you.

He was the kind of guy who would help you in any way
Anytime or moment on any given day.

Whether he had something to do or somewhere to go
Joe was always there to help, that I know.

One thing about Joe, he was the type of dude
Who just couldn't be mean, or say something rude.

And if he did it was surely in jest
Cause I knew Joe as one of the best.

All of the tears and all of the sorrow
Will not bring Joe back today or tomorrow.

Now that Joe's days have ended of this earth
It's too hard to imagine what he was worth.

I can't put it in words, it's too hard to explain
What big Joe meant to the rest of the gang.

Always a smile, never a frown
Wouldn't ever let you down.

I knew Joe as one helluva man
Always ready to give a helping hand.

Although I only knew him about two years
I can't express even in tears.

How I felt about big Joe
You can't tell, you'll never know.
My love for him will grow and grow.

Even though he's passed away
My love for him will always stay.

Even now as I kneel and pray
Sooner or later will come my judgement day.

And when it does I'll be able to say
Me and big Joe are together today.

Some of you might feel this is a stupid sentimental poem
But all I can really say is you just didn't know 'im.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE

LET'S TAKE A GOOD LOOK AT EACH OTHER...

We know a young man just out of school has more on his mind than just a job these days. He's concerned about his world. He's looking at the future. And he's looking for a way to do something about it.

We're looking at the future too. In fact we're dedicated to it. And we're looking for people who feel the same way.

You see, there's more to the Air Force than good pay, guaranteed jobs and valuable skills. There's also the satisfaction of doing something worthwhile and important.

But that's something you'll have to decide for yourself. It's easy to get the facts and there's no obligation. Contact your nearest Air Force Recruiter at

Jenny,
I finally got to see you play. You're a super great person. Hope we're in some of my classes next year. Good luck in everything you do. Maybe I'll see ya this summer.
Best Wishes

Jenny, (Jenny!)
your basketball is really getting good. The hook shots!! Get rid of them tugboats! Softballs looking better every day. We'll have to get together this summer. (diving, ha ha) Well I hope all the years to come are greats. Hope we're in some of the same classes.
Darlene Dalminen

Jenny,
To the craziest person I have ever met. We had the greatest time in Psychology class. He was fun to laugh at. Well I'm really glad I got to know you. I'll hope I keep on knowing you cuz your fun to laugh with and be around with. Hope to see you next year & have a good summer
Linda "77"

Jenny,
Hope you had a great time at Warren this year. St. Ann won't be the same without ya (HA! HA!) Have a fantastic summer & hopefully I'll see ya before school starts back up.
Good-luck always.

(same as you, eh?)

Jenny -
Can't wait till Basketball Camp. (Yea Yea!!!) ☺ It's really been a great basketball season and we'll be having our usual ole' Warren Hegh Next year will take Conference, Regionals and State champs and experience many more memories. Take care in all you do - Good Luck and Keep it up in basketball - you've got the talent -
Brenda ☺

Jenny,
You're a great person and friend. I hope we are in the same Art class next year. Don't ever forget this years art class. Keep your smile and terrific personality. You're really great, and very nice. Keep your talent in Art. Keep in touch. 939-6553. OK! Come over in the summer to. Good luck.

Love
Pat

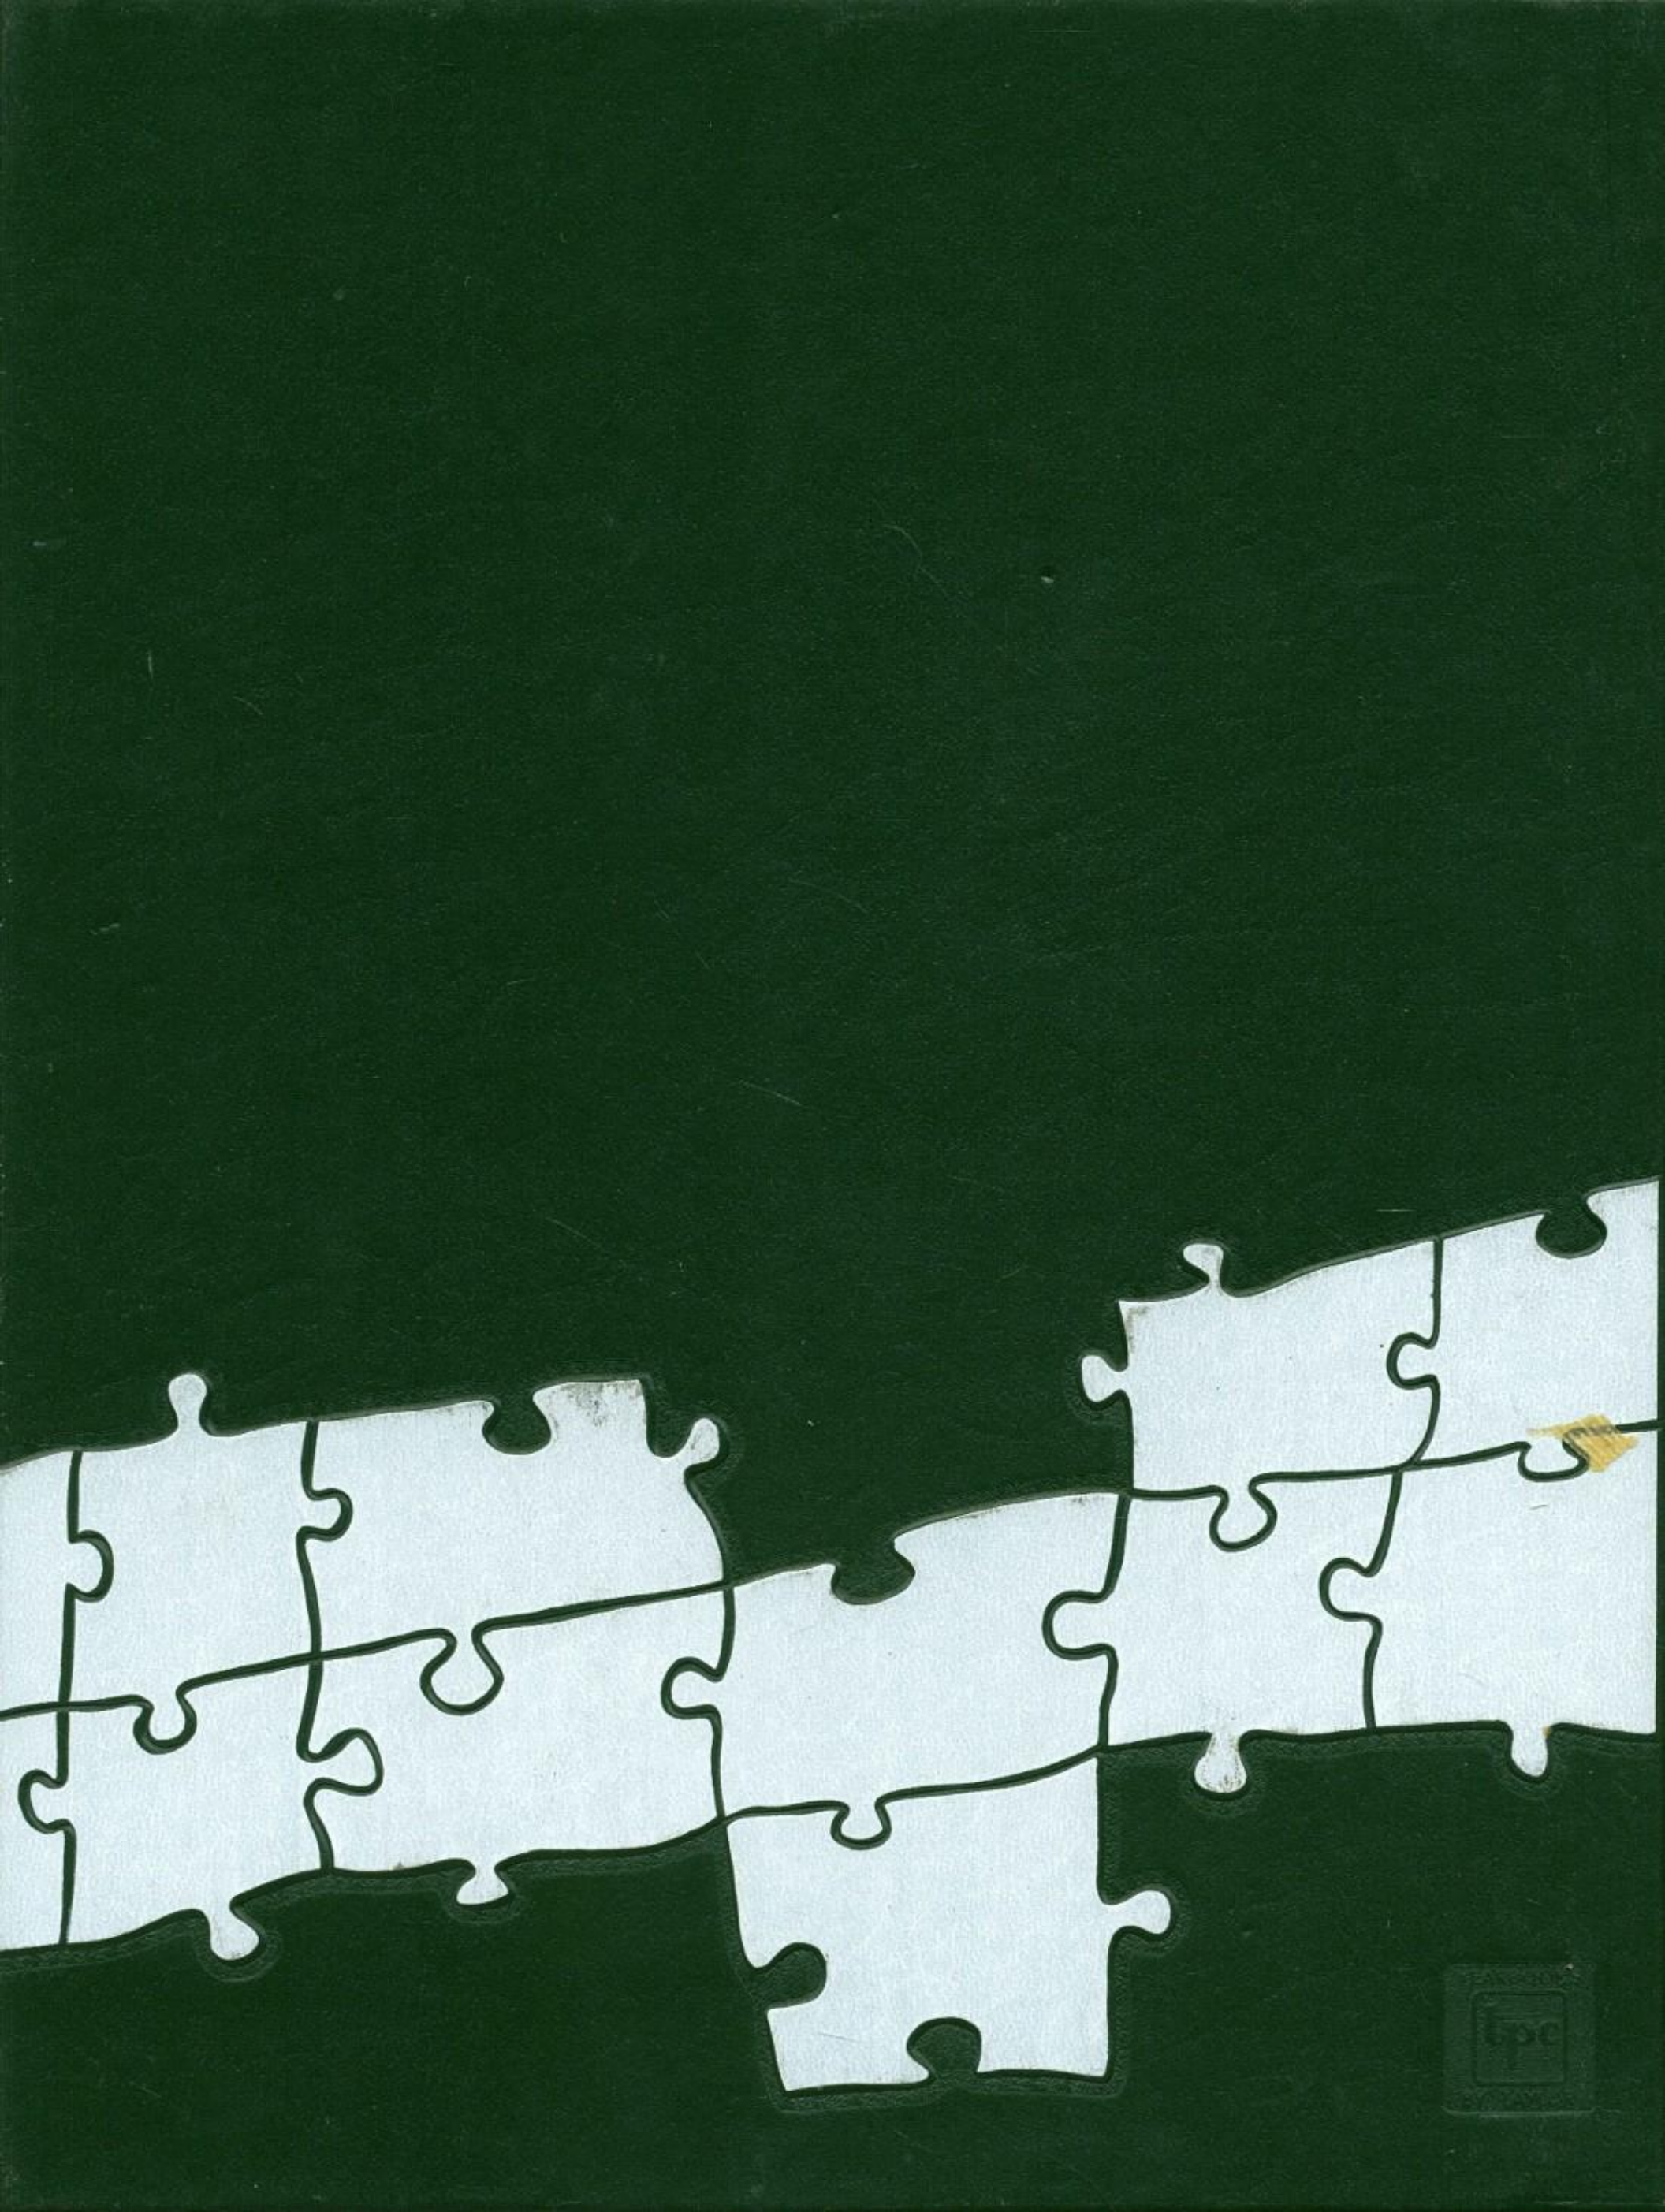
Jennyfer:
Surprise surprise!
Mel.


Jenny, I know you'll do great in French and Sports and Art. I'll miss you around school (good luck in next years classes) and my Linda Lou Ramsbottom?)
